

"Blessed are those that can give without remembering, and receive without forgetting."

One day a man who worked as a florist went to his local barber for a haircut. After the cut, he asked about his bill, and the barber replied, 'I can't accept money from you, as I'm doing community service this week'. The florist was pleased with this and left the shop. When the barber went to open his shop the next morning, there was a 'thank you' card and a dozen roses waiting for him at his door.

Later, a policeman came in for a haircut, and when he tried to pay his bill, the barber again replied, 'I can't accept and money from you, as I'm doing community service this week'. The cop was happy and left the shop. The next morning when the barber went to open up, there was a 'thank you' card from the copper, and a box of fresh donuts, waiting for him at his door.

Later, an MP came in for a haircut, and – once again - when he went to pay his bill, the barber replied, 'I can't accept money from you, as I'm doing community service this week.' The MP was very happy, and left the shop. The next morning, when the barber went to open up, there were a dozen MPs lined up, waiting for a free haircut.

And that, my friends, illustrates the fundamental difference between the citizens of our country and the politicians who run it. As Margaret Thatcher said: "Both politicians and nappies need to be changed often, and for the same reason!"

This is what we, who are aged 70 or 80 years plus, can look forward to.

This is something that happened at an assisted living center. The people who lived there had small apartments but they all ate at a central cafeteria. One morning one of the residents didn't show up for breakfast so my wife went upstairs and knocked on his door to see if everything was OK. She could hear him through the door and he said that he was running late and would be down shortly, so she went back to the dining area.

An hour later he still hadn't arrived, so she went back up towards his room but found him on the stairs. He was coming down the stairs but was having a hard time. He had a death grip on the hand rail and seemed to have trouble getting his legs to work right. She told him she was going to call an ambulance but he told her no, he wasn't in any pain and just wanted to have his breakfast. So, she helped him the rest of the way down the stairs and he had his breakfast. When he tried to return to his room, he was completely unable to get up even the first stair step, so they called an ambulance for him.

A couple of hours later she called the hospital to see how he was doing. The receptionist there said he was fine, he just had both of his legs in one side of his boxer shorts.

I'm sending this to my children so that they don't sell the house before they know all the facts.

Old Men May Walk Slow . . .

An elderly man in Queensland had owned a large property for several years. On the site, he had a dam in one of the lower paddocks where he had planted mango and avocado trees.

The dam had also been fixed up for swimming when it was built and he also had some picnic tables placed there in the shade of the fruit trees.

One evening the old farmer decided to go down to the dam to look it over, as he hadn't been there for a while. He grabbed a bucket to bring back some fruit. As he neared the dam, he heard voices shouting and laughing with glee.

As he came closer, he saw it was a bunch of young women skinny-dipping in his dam. He quickly made the women aware of his presence and they all went to the deep end. One of the women shouted to him, 'We're not coming out until you leave!'

The old man frowned, 'I didn't come down here to watch you ladies swim naked or make you get out of the dam naked.' Holding the bucket up he said, 'I'm here to feed the crocodile'

Moral: Old men may walk slow, but they can still think fast!
